FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Bogart, GA – St. Mary's Family Medicine, the practice of Drs. Devin Stephens and Alex Duggan, along with nurse practitioners Jennifer Sutherland and Christine Harr, will be opening in its new location March 17 at The Village at Malcom Bridge, a new commercial development in Oconee County near Malcom Bridge elementary and middle schools.

St. Mary's Family Medicine is a comprehensive family medicine practice providing primary care to patients of all ages. At 4,500 square feet, the new location is significantly larger than the current office on Daniells Bridge Road. It is easily accessible from Mars Hill Road, U.S. 78 and Ga. 316, making it especially convenient for families in Oconee, Barrow and Walton counties.

"We are excited for the expansion and new location for St. Mary's Family Medicine," said Brandt Halbach, Vice President of Operations, St. Mary's Medical Group. "The Village at Malcom Bridge allows us to accommodate this growth and expanded access in an easily accessible and convenient location for our patients."

Dr. Stephens and nurse practitioner Jennifer Sutherland have been providing care at SMFM for several years. Recently, they were joined by Dr. Duggan and nurse practitioner Christine Harr. Halbach noted that St. Mary's Medical Group is continuing to recruit additional providers to meet the need for primary care in the rapidly growing area around Bogart and Statham.

The new address for the practice is 2421 Malcom Bridge Road, Suite 420, Bogart, Ga., 30622. To learn more about SMFM or to schedule a new patient visit, call (706) 208-8038 or visit stmarys-health.org/locations/st-mary-s-family-medicine. Same-day appointments are available in many cases.
